Review Von Pipapo The book "Bend it like Beckham" is written by Narinder Dharmi and the action takes place in the 21st century. The story is about a girl, Jesminder Bhamra, who loves playing football and who wants to become a famous, professional football player one day. As she joins Hounslow Harriers' girls side, because of her best friend Jules, she falls in love with her coach Joe and the problems begin. Jesminder nearly kisses Joe in Hambourg in front of Jules, who also has feelings for him and their friendship seems to be over for some time. In the end her family finds out that she plays football and is shocked at first, but finally it's all coming to a good end. The story isn't surprising and it seems like you've heard of it somewhere before. Besides, it fulfills a lot of clichés of a typical teenage love story. The narrator reports from the sight of Jesminder Bhamra, who also is the protagonist. The first-person narrative provides an opportunity for the reader to see what she feels inside or what she thinks. The main characters are Jesminder and her family, Jules and Joe. They all have a good sense of humour even if it's not intended. The ending of the story is very predictable and not surprising at all. Anyhow, this book is extremely readable. The message of this book fits to different situations in everyday lifetime and it animates to realize one's dreams. The climax of the story isn't that exciting but after that comes the turning point and Jess realizes that she has to change something. All in all, it's a nice book to read and it's very interesting because of the different culture. I would recommend it to a teenager in the age of 12- 15 and one who is interested in sport and love stories.

Kurzbeschreibung Jess just wants to play football but her wedding-obsessed parents have other ideas so she hides it from them. But when Jess and her friend Jules join a ladies team and get spotted by a talent scout, it all kicks off... Pressestimmen This is a really excellent book -- I saw the film but the book is better! (Danielle Lewis, Craigmount High Teen Titles) Why did I like this book? Simple! It was brilliant. Hilarious and sad. (Kylie Hughes, Heysham High School Lancashire Children's Book of the Year Award) A brilliant read (Gemma Ashcroft, 17 Boox) Sheer joy to read (AllinfoaboutchildrensbooksUK.com) Werbetext If you're 18, love Beckham and can bend a ball like him the world's your oyster, right? Wrong. If you're Jess - 18, Indian and a girl - forget it.
