but she gets stuck in a little tourist town on the way: Churchston. She quickly finds a few friends and a few little jobs and an old little house. She also finds the owner of the house, owner of the town's garage, and not very loved town war hero Will. And she doesn't like him. He doesn't like her either, but he's at least a bit intrigued... Ok, she's intrigued too, but she finally wants someone to really love her, not a guy only out for one night. While Kelly is starting her new life in a new town, a crazy serial killer lady is hot on Kelly's heels. _____ I really enjoyed the story! You never really know what to expect, when an author asks you to read their new, and possibly first-ever-released book, other than lots of mistakes with grammar and spelling and whatnot. BUT, Amabel did a really great job. This story was totally my thing.... a great romantic suspense with lots of funny, and moving and scary moments. I was a tiny little bit confused whenever the crazy killer person had her own POV for a few paragraphs...but that's what makes the whole story mysterious! BETTER THAN THE BEST was a really exciting and funny touching Romantic Suspense, set in a cute little town, with lots of nice and not-so-nice residents! I loved it! I wouldn't mind reading Clay's Randy's Heather's story one day.

Kurzbeschreibung A new beginning. Turning a leaf. All that crap. After her divorce and the death of one of her patients, an ER nurse, Kelly Newland, searches for a fresh start in the little town of Churchston. As she learns to accept her failures in life, she befriends some of the locals, except for one disgruntled man, the hero everybody loves to hate. He could feel their stares on his back, their judgments hovering over their heads. Will Parker suffers from PTSD, and as the black sheep of the sleepy lakeside community, he struggles to get back up on his feet. Initially, Kelly and Will mix like oil and water, but as a series of dangerous incidents strike the people closest to them, their antagonism turns from cool to hot. It is only when they realize it is impossible to resist each other that a killer closes in on them, threatening the love they've dared to find.
