But Jack Logan has received in change an unique gift. Which will reveil itself as highly dangerous, too. Because the Dead do not easily let go of what rightfully belongs to them...Jack Logan plays the guitar in an Broadway musical. After the opening night event the producer falls by what seems to be an heart attack and is also touched by a car. Seemingly dead, he is cradled by Jack. Who covers his eyes and tells the poor man to come back with him, back where he belongs. He has brought him back to life! This is what the old man repeats over and over again, when he awakes! A miracle!!! This event does not only catch immediatly the eyes of the TV and the Press, but also those of the head of an obscure paranormal research unit, This Dr. Sprague sees in Jack his long-awaited ticket to the Nobel Price in Medicine. And with the help of Nancy Liu - his right hand, assistant and student - he convinces Jack to be tested over and over again. He induces him into deep trance, where an other event is discovered. In his early youth Jack seems to have "returned" a play-mate who was smothered by wet sand to death. And the boys swore silence to one another... Jack suffers always more and more, and always worse from the tests Dr Sprague is performing onto him. And he starts to see his dead mother - who has been omnly the womb to carry the pregnancy until Jack could have been delivered. The she was deprived of the life-sustaining units and left to die. But obviously his mother has been not totally brain-dead, but lived during the whole 6 or 7 months, through the birth, too - only to be killed cold-blooded by shutting the machines down! Now she is angry, very very angry! And tries to get what she thinks that rightfully belongs to her. To take Jack now over the Black Horizon - to the destiny that is waiting for him. For years and years now, Since the car-incident that killed Jack's father and left his Mother seemingly brain-dead. But other people have heard of the "Angel for the Dead", the magical healer with forces never known before. And Jack has to free himself from all those who want to write about him or want to be healed by him. Then his Mam - the Granny that is his mother's mother, but was like a mother to Jack, too - is urgently recovered in an hospital because of lung ephysema. Can Jack do anything for the woman that always was his second Ma? And the vultures are at the clinic to see Jack "perform" - or not? This is one of the early books of bestseller-author Robert Masello, first printed in 1989, after Private Demons (English Edition) and The Spirit Wood (English Edition). It is - like tose other two - a thriller with supernatural phenomena. For those wko like this type of books, it is a very good read. The kindle-version sold over .it obviously was corrected - apart some typos there are no missing pages or chapters. The lecture is fluid, there are no superflual filling events in the book. Surely, the author has yet to prove his writing full capacity - but it merits three stars tending to four. And a very competitive low price is an other incentive to try some of the early Masello works. I will also review the other two I am reading right now. Very interesting stuff...

Kurzbeschreibung The gates between life and death have been opened. Musician Jack Logan holds the key. In the streets of New York, he brought a man back from the dead in plain and shocking sight of a TV news camera crew. Now the whole world is aware of his miraculous power. The media wants to expose him; the scientists to exploit him. But worst of all, the tortured souls of the dead including his own mother are reaching out from the void, luring him into the eternal domain, transforming his gift into the ultimate curse. Living or dead, they struggle to seize and control the secret that lies beyond the . . . black horizon.
