Nema's book reveals nature's truth to a waking mind heartVon Ein KundeMany have said that nature is truly the greatest teacher, and when the time for word and thought rests in the immortal essence of the moment, her lessons come to us and may speak to us and teach us the truths of our heart as we weave through the seeming complexity of day to day life and find ourselves back in the moment, as truth dissolves all illusion and love teaches us all lessons. This is the message of the ancient Egyptians as it is also the nature of NEMA's book to convey this message. Nema's book is about this truth and the search for inner vision as it reaches its refinement in our day and age. And we find, that between us, this truth is ultimately much less different than the centuries before us have led us to suspect...leading us to the realization that only love could allow such chaos to exist, and only will could bind such truth. As an introduction to the magical arts, this book provides the neophyte with a mature, well thought out and researched evolving view of a "magick," as a willed mind change, which can not be confined by "tradition" but which represents the culminating flower of human compassion.

Kurzbeschreibung Progressing from Thelemic Magick, Maat Magick transforms the ashes and rubble of the destruction caused by the old formula of the Dying God into a new world society. These rituals are designed for the individual, but can be adapted for group work. Introduction by Kenneth Grant, foreword by Jan Fries. Includes "Liber Pennae Praenumbra," a document received by Nema while in a visionary trance. Glossary. Bibliography. Index.
